

Retlaw Fox
risk resolved™

Retlaw Fox focuses on Enterprise Risk Management (ERM) and the inter-related disciplines of Strategy and Change Management. Our approach involves the integration of these disciplines to ensure a unified overall solution.

It is no longer feasible to consider risk management in isolation.

Today, leading boards and senior executives are working to shift their ERM approach from a compliance focus to a strategic focus. They recognise that, to create value, ERM must be integrated and directly connected to the strategy setting, implementation and execution process.

Clearly, the heat is on

Boards are demanding that executives and senior managers step-up their risk management processes and strengthen the link between risk management and strategy.

Retlaw Fox takes the position that ERM can significantly improve the quality of decision-making, reduce uncertainty, and improve strategic and operational effectiveness. We believe ERM encourages businesses to give equal attention to the 'key risk indicators' and the 'key performance indicators'. This increases the certainty of outcomes and contributes to achieving performance goals, sustaining shareholder value, and improving customer service.

How we can assist

Training

Retlaw Fox is passionate about developing competence and confidence in organisations through management training. Our strategy is to provide valuable training at a reasonable cost. We have developed a range of training courses that are relevant and contemporary.

Advisory

Our advisory services can inform and assist you in setting up the corporate governance structures and processes needed to ensure that your ERM programme complies with relevant legislation, codes, and best practices.

Interim management

Our interim management service is ideally suited if you require more than advice and want an experienced executive or senior manager to come in, do the job, and exit.

Please visit www.retlawfox.co.za for more information.

BEE status

Retlaw Fox Associates is a Level 4 Contributor, verified by EconoBEE. This enables you to claim qualifying purchases at the rate of 100% of your procurement spend with us.

We travel

In order to make our training and advisory services more accessible and affordable to clients outside of South Africa, we are prepared to travel to other countries in Africa and beyond.
